“YOU ARE WITNESSES TO THIS.”

There is a glue that combines the beginning and the end of Jesus' public ministry. It is forty days. At the beginning of Jesus' public ministry, he spends 40 days in the desert being tempted by Satan. Satan wants Jesus to use some divine power, turning stones to bread, cheating death and taking a shortcut to authority over all nations. Jesus says no, and continues his life and ministry in his humanity, following the Spirit and obeying the Father's will. After his resurrection and before the Ascension, Jesus spends another 40 days appearing to his disciples and followers and teaching about the kingdom of God.

The ascension is obviously a key event in the life of the Saviour. It ranks with his incarnation, baptism, transfiguration, death and resurrection in a series of critical events that identify his mission and destiny. Luke, at the end of his gospel, tells us that Jesus brought his disciples to Bethany, just outside of Jerusalem, and there, lifting up his hands, he blessed them. While he was blessing them, he withdrew from them and was carried up into heaven. The disciples worshiped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy.

The Ascension marks not only the ending of Jesus' public ministry but also the beginning of a new phase in Christ's relationship to humanity, kind of a 'spiritual presence' for baptized believers. The beginning of today's gospel spells out that ascension is not a goodbye story. It's the time for the disciples to take responsibility in preaching Jesus Christ to the world: "You see how it is written that the Christ would suffer and on the third day rise from the dead, and that, in his name, repentance for the forgiveness of sins would be preached to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem. You are witnesses to this".

Jesus had been "lifted up," his followers can believe that he had not only risen from the dead, but is in a new life with God. His being there gives us hope that one day we will also be there. Jesus is now in God's company, his appearances to his disciples have ceased. But since he is with God, like God, he is present to all, no longer limited by time and place. Since Jesus is alive with God, we are assured that he will come again. Meanwhile, because of his present status as Lord of all, he works with his servants to bring about God's plan.
