“TODAY SALVATION HAS COME TO THIS HOUSE.”

In today's gospel, Zacchaeus is described as a chief tax collector and he is rich. As such he was an outcast to his own people since he preyed on them. He had no standing in society. He was looked down upon and despised by all. You may remember from last week's gospel about the parable of the Pharisee and tax collector at prayer. The Pharisee thanked God that he led a better life than "even this tax collector."

Tax collectors made their living by collecting taxes from the local people in order to support the oppressive structure of imperial Roman. But there was more; they made themselves rich by adding a premium to what they had to deliver to the Romans in order to cover their own expensive lifestyle. If they were going to be unpopular in any case, they might as well do it in comfort. Clearly, Zacchaeus was not happy with his way of life. He saw something in Jesus that was different. He wanted to know what it was, and so he climbed a sycamore tree that was along the way Jesus would pass, so that he could get a good view and maybe learn his secret.

He got more than he bargained for. Jesus not only saw him in the tree but called him down. He accepted him with love and understanding. He also invited himself into Zacchaeus' home, into his life. He saw more than a chief tax collector and a rich man. He saw what Zacchaeus couldn't see for himself. In the eyes of the crowd Zacchaeus is a sinner. But in the eyes of Jesus Zacchaeus is a Son of Abraham. Zacchaeus was sought, seen, and saved. The lost one had been found.

"I MUST STAY
AT YOUR HOUSE
TODAY!"

Jesus did not join in the universal condemnation of tax collectors but on the contrary went so far as to invite himself to the home of Zacchaeus.

The reaction of the crowd was predictable. They complained about Jesus associating with such a sinner. The reaction of Zacchaeus, however, was different. The way Jesus accepted him, not condemning or criticising, helped Zacchaeus to see that he could change his life and do things differently. He was now ready to give back his ill-gotten gains and start afresh.

The point of today's Gospel reading is to show us that the answer to our inner longings is not to acquire more things for ourselves but rather to build relationships of love and compassion with others, with Jesus as our leader and guide. Jesus comes not to condemn, but to save the world.
