“IT IS THE LORD”

Jesus comes to the disciples once again, and it is his third appearance after the resurrection. He appears to them when they seem drifting back to their old business before following the call of Jesus.

Peter is going fishing suggests the disciples were unable to sustain their Easter faith. So, their belief in the resurrection hasn't translated into life and mission. After all they have experienced in their time with Jesus, and having encountered the resurrected Christ, they seem to have forgotten his charge to them. They are not going "fishing" – going out to catch others for Christ. They are just returning to their old business, as if nothing has changed in their lives! Even Peter's tone suggests a kind of resignation, "I'm going fishing," as if to say, "What else is there to do?" Things are falling apart and the call they received seems to have dissolved. While the disciples may have abandoned their call, it is encouraging to note that Jesus has not abandoned them. As in the beginning of the Gospel, when he first called them, and after his resurrection, when he goes to them in the locked room, once again Jesus finds them and calls them to their mission. And note where he finds them (and us) – in the midst of their everyday working lives. They are at their old work and he goes there to meet them.

Peter's fishing expedition becomes a new experience of abundance, mirroring miracles of turning water into wine at Cana and the twelve baskets of food left over at the feeding of the 5,000. The nets that had been empty when used under the disciples' own power are filled almost to bursting with a word from the risen Christ, who then prepares them a meal. Once again, the disciples are eating with Jesus and one another. This "last breakfast" transforms a moment of deprivation and insufficiency into a feast, with unexpected blessing made available for all.

When the disciples had gone back to old patterns, they need renewal in their identity as witnesses to the life, death and resurrection of Jesus. Like them we need to be strengthened in our resolve to love and to bear up under the persecution that comes because we follow Jesus' call to love and service. The Eucharistic table is the place we get help and a renewal of our resolve to carry the cross, and follow Christ.

Fr Peter Toan Nguyen OP, PP

WORLD DAY FOR VOCATIONS

Next Sunday is the World Day for Vocations. Vocations is the Lord's work. In his message for this day Pope Francis reminds "The Lord's call is not an intrusion of God in our freedom; it is not a "cage" or a burden to be borne. On the contrary, it is the loving initiative whereby God encounters us and invites us to be part of a great undertaking. He opens before our eyes the horizon of a greater sea and an abundant catch." Let us all offer one prayer this week for the young people that we know. Let us pray that they will hear the voice of the Good Shepherd amidst the daily events of their lives.

CHAPLAINCY SUNDAY 2019 Sunday 19 May

For all who are sick, do not lose hope, especially when your suffering is at its worst. Christ is near you. Pope Francis

The Melbourne Catholic Archbishop's Charitable Fund will conduct its annual Chaplaincy Sunday Appeal in parishes to support the vital work of Catholic chaplains in hospitals, prisons and youth detention centres and in support of seafarers. The appeal will be held in parishes on or around Sunday 19 May. This year the focus will be on healthcare chaplaincy. Parishioners are encouraged to offer prayers and a financial donation to help provide continued spiritual and emotional comfort to families facing illness, pain, grief and death. Please give generously to this appeal.
