SOCIAL JUSTICE SUNDAY

This year, the Australian Bishops' Social Justice Statement is titled: 'Making it Real: Genuine human encounter in our digital world'. It shares Pope Francis' challenge to us to

'boldly become citizens of the digital world'. It points out that we are called not just to be inhabitants of this world, but active citizens shaping it.

For further details about the Social Justice Statement, visit the Office for Social Justice website: (www.socialjustice.catholic.org.au)

GENUINE HUMAN ENCOUNTER IN OUR ONLINE WORLD

Pope Francis is calling each one of us to 'boldly become citizens of the digital world', with the image of the Good Samaritan as our inspiration. His call is not one that is oblivious to the many risks and threats encountered online. He says that this is a public square where people can truly engage and build each other up or attack one another and undermine the dignity of our neighbour.

At the interpersonal level there are experiences of cyberbullying, the objectification of women – particularly through the proliferation of pornography, addiction to social media and hyper-individualism.

At the community level there is the exclusion of a variety of vulnerable groups from the social and economic benefits of digital technology and a need to foster physical spaces where participation in online communities or movements can be made real.

There are also more global forces of injustice that threaten to undermine vital social, economic and political institutions. Platforms breaching users' privacy for the advertising dollar and malicious actors spreading misinformation to improperly influence elections are examples that spring to mind.

In the face of all of these challenges, Pope Francis has asked us to be a force for 'genuine human encounter' in the digital world. The bishops reflect at length on the theme that Pope Francis has mentioned in many of his World Communications Day messages:

'Genuine relationships are based on truth and develop over time. They are not fleeting or characterised by falsehood or discord. Relationships that are truly human recognise the dignity of the other, made in the image and likeness of God. They foster an integral development beyond immediate wants and needs to build up the person socially, culturally and spiritually. True encounter makes real the love of God in the life of our neighbour. There can be nothing that isolates or divides.'
