Social Justice Sunday - Homelessness

On these cold, wet, wintry nights it is very confronting to see and to hear of people sleeping in the streets as more than a thousand Victorians do on any one night. Across Australia besides those sleeping rough, others sleep in cars, on couches, in over-crowded homes, in short term crisis shelters, rehabilitation and correction centres. The number of people affected has increased significantly in the past five years; estimates indicate 116, 000 people on any one night, with an increase in the number of calls for assistance, many of which go unanswered. Homelessness is not just confined to the major cities. Regional areas are also affected.

How do we explain this phenomenon of the unavailability of secure and stable housing for so many people in affluent Australia when access to safe and secure housing is considered to be both a basic human need and a human right? The causes are often complex involving factors such as the lack of affordable housing, increasing rental costs, unemployment, inadequate welfare payments, family and domestic disability, addiction and people leaving custody. Those most affected are young people, asylum seekers, aborigines and Torres Strait Islanders and increasingly women over 55.

Living in poverty, experiencing family breakdown, wishing to avoid state care, suffering from mental illness, coming from a non-English speaking background, or living in rural and remote locations - all can lead to homelessness for young people. Furthermore, those with jobs are often on low incomes which do not enable them to afford rent. Domestic violence within Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities is a major factor associated with homelessness. For all victims of domestic violence access to safe and secure housing is a prerequisite for breaking the cycle of violence. Older women, ineligible for an aged pension, with inadequate savings, trying to survive on the Newstart allowance are often unable to pay private rental.

Awareness of the serious long term effects of homelessness on the health and wellbeing of individual people and on the social, cultural and economic life of the community is leading to a demand for a National Strategy involving state and federal governments and civil society to confront homelessness. In January this year the Andrews Government allocated $45 million for its Homelessness and Rough Sleeping Action Plan designed to increase social housing and improve support and outreach services for vulnerable Victorians.

What can Individuals do? Raise our voices to encourage the Government to take action and address the rising homelessness. As an aid to greater awareness, watch the SBS series: "Filthy Rich and Homeless", or buy a copy of the "Big Issue".

11am Recessional Hymn

In Christ there is no east or west,
in him no south or north,
but one great fellowship of love
throughout the whole wide earth.

In Christ shall true hearts everywhere their high communion find;
his service is the golden cord close-binding humankind.

Join hands, disciples in the faith,
what e'er your race may be;
who serve each other in Christ's love
are surely kin to me.

In Christ now meet both east and west;
in him meet south and north;
all Christ-like souls are one in him
throughout the whole wide earth.

Saturday 6pm Hymn
LORD YOU GIVE THE GREAT COMMISSION (BEETHOVEN/ROWTHORN)
Lord you give the great commission:
"Heal the sick and preach the word."
Lest the Church neglect its mission, and the Gospel go unheard,
Help us witness to your purpose with renewed integrity;
With the Spirit's gifts empower us for the work of ministry.

Lord, you call us to your service:
"In my name baptize and teach."
That the world may trust your promise, life abundant meant for each,
Give us all new fervour, draw us closer in community;
With the Spirit's gifts empower us for the work of ministry.

Lord, you bless with words assuring;
"I am with you to the end."
Faith and hope and love restoring,
may we serve as you intend,
And, amid the cares that claim us, hold in mind eternity;
With the Spirit's gifts empower us for the work of ministry.

PROPER OF THE MASS: 26th Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year B

Entrance Antiphon

All that you have done to us, O Lord, you have done with true judgement, for we have sinned against you and not obeyed your commandments. But give glory to your name and deal with us according to the bounty of your mercy.

Responsorial Psalm

The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia! Your word, O Lord is truth: make us holy in the truth. Alleluia!

Communion Antiphon

Remember your word to your servant, O Lord, by which you have given me hope. This is my comfort when I am brought low.
