20th Sunday. Ordinary Time ,Year A

In the Gospel of today, Jesus seems to be shown in a poor light. He had said to the Canaanite woman a few things that were not so pleasing to hear. Having heard the Gospel passage, we too tend to think not so good about Jesus. But, are we not misunderstanding Jesus?

Yes, we would love to believe that Jesus did not say those provoking remarks to the Canaanite woman. May be, he did not mean it the way we understand it or may be, he said it in order to get from the Canaanite woman a greater expression of faith. There are a few explanations that clarify the controversial Gospel passage for us.

One of the explanations could be that, Jesus was speaking out, not his own mind, nor his own attitude towards the Canaanite people, but what the Jews in general thought about the Canaanites and other non Jewish people. Thus Jesus is trying to expose the unacceptable attitude of his Jewish disciples. The words seemingly of Jesus are in fact not of Jesus but of the Jewish public.

We know that Jesus always spoke well of the Samaritans, the Canaanites and the gentiles. He did not exclude anyone from His ministry. Jesus wanted to teach, 'Never ever think that, the non Jewish people are dogs or good for nothing; 'Never ever think that God's blessings are limited to only a few.

Jesus seems to ask his disciples, 'how is it that you are asking me to show kindness to her, while you yourself never think good about them?" First you change your attitude towards other people. Remember, Jesus took his disciples on a training mission to the Gentile area.

Earlier once, when Jesus was sending the disciples on a mission he told them not to enter the Samaritan villages. That was because the disciples were not well trained yet. They were still of narrow minded. Now Jesus is training and teaching them the right attitude towards the non Jewish people. So when the Canaanite woman came to ask for a favour, Jesus takes the opportunity to teach the disciples a lesson on not to discriminate.

"Do you believe in ghosts?" the boss asked his employee who had taken leave the previous day to go for his grandmother's funeral.

"Yes, Sir" the employee answered, "and I believe in life after death, as well" "Well then, said the boss, your grandmother has just called in to see you"
