Thoughtfulness is the beginning of great sanctity. If you learn this art of being thoughtful, you will become more and more Christ-like, for his heart was meek and he always thought of others. Our vocation, to be beautiful, must be full of thought for others.

22nd Sunday in Ordinary Time Selfless Service

Dear brothers and sisters in Jesus, Today's readings put forward two key messages from Jesus. The first message is that of humility and the second message is of selflessness. Today we shall concentrate our thoughts on this second message. It is said that, the natural tendency of a human child is to be selfless and to share. But, as the child grows up and comes in contact with the corrupt world the tendency to be selfish and to hold back sets in.

When I think of 'selflessness', I am reminded of a 8 year old boy, by the name Jim. He desired to eat Magnum Gold Ice-cream. His friends were all talking about Magnum Gold Ice-cream. They all had had eaten it several times, during picnics and parties. But Jim had neither picnics nor parties nor any Magnum Gold. Even then, he managed to organise some pocket money for himself. Then he walked into an ice-cream parlour. At the counter he raised his head and asked 'how much does a Magnum Gold Ice-cream cost, please?' Quick came the answer, 'Two dollar fifty'. Our little Jim put his hands into his pockets pulled out few coins from his pants pocket and few from his shirt-pocket and began to count and calculate. The man at the counter was getting irritated because Jim was taking bit too long time with his calculations. After a while, Jim once again raised his head and asked, 'may I know how much does an ordinary ice-cream costs, please?' Already losing his temper, the man at the counter gave him a quick answer, 'Two dollar twenty'. Placing two dollar twenty at the counter, Jim said, 'Then give me an ordinary ice-cream, please.' And Jim was served an ordinary plain ice-cream. Having eaten his ice-cream, Jim went his way. But when the counter man came to collect the plate, tears filled his eyes; at the edge of the plate Jim had left 30 cents as a tip for the good service he received.

We might feel sorry for Jim, for he could not have his magnum gold., but had to satisfy himself with an ordinary ice-cream. But why feel sorry for Jim? There was no compulsion on him to keep aside his 30 cents. He chose to do so in his total freedom. He chose something that is far greater than any Magnum Gold. He chose something that Jesus recommends for all of us i.e. selflessness.

This type of selfless-giving that Jesus speaks about is a result of self-sacrifice. That sounds hard, but in fact it is not too hard. One way of learning this seemingly hard way is by telling oneself that all that I hold is not my own. They are with me in my pocket but it belongs to someone else. Our little Jim knew it very well. He was conscious of it when calculating the use of his two dollar fifty, and so, he had to take into consideration the others.

Therefore, when one gives with such an understanding, we attach no self-interests. We are to give expecting no reward, recognition, appreciation, gratitude or favour in return. The type of giving that we saw in Jim and to the greatest extend, we see in Jesus is purely out of one's good will.

Again very many times we give, because of our obligation. The receiver may be one's own family member or a friend or so. That is good, but such giving is not "quality giving". Jesus is talking about "quality-giving". In quality giving one gives spontaneously. Like Jim who gave his 30 cents away not because he was duty bound. But that thought arose in his innocent mind spontaneously. Let us look to Jesus and learn to be more and more self-less in giving and true in all our dealings.

Keep Well, everyone!

Thoughtfulness for others, generosity, modesty, and self-respect are the qualities which make a real gentleman or lady.

DO HELPFUL THINGS.
