Lifting of general dispensation from Sunday & Holy Day obligations
1st Sunday in Advent – 27 November 2022.

The Archbishop of Melbourne, Rev Peter A Comensoli, Archbishop of Melbourne has written a Pastoral Letter with regard to the lifting of general dispensation from Sunday & Holy Day obligations from the First Sunday of Advent (27 November 2022). As always, the ordinary individual exemptions will remain in place (e.g., for reasons of ill health, family care of the vulnerable, etc.).

Similarly, there is no longer a general need for televising or streaming local Masses, now that we can fully gather without restrictions. Some online and telecast options will continue to be offered where needed -e.g., the 11am Sunday Mass from the Cathedral on Community TV C3 I (Channel 44) and the Archdiocesan YouTube channel, as well as daily Mass via YouTube at any time.

Updated Liturgical Guidelines can be found on the Archdiocesan website:
<https://melbournecatholic.org/covid-I9-guidelines>
Copies of this Pastoral Letter are available in the Church Foyer.

Transport requested A parishioner from the Koornang Rd end of the parish would like transport to either 11 am or 5 pm Mass on Sundays. Please contact Veronica via the Parish House if you can help.
Thank you.

Children's Liturgy of the Word is restarting soon. Watch for more details.

Advent Reflection Sessions,
4 Mondays in a row. Starting from 21st November. 7pm to 8pm in our church.
Your names on clipboard would be appreciated.

Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe

Dear brothers and sisters in Jesus,

We know Jesus by his different titles. Even though we do not understand fully the meaning of his titles. Some of his titles might be even misunderstood. Titles like, Jesus Son of God, Jesus Son of Man, Jesus Son of David etc, need explanation to understand what is meant by them. What is meant by “Jesus the Good Shepherd” is easily understood.

Today, as we call him by the title “King of the Universe”, immediately a picture comes to our mind: with golden crown adorned with costly jewels, and sitting in a big golden throne, wearing royal robes, holding in his hand a staff of authority. Such an image may be necessary for us when referring to him as the king, but it can be so misunderstood as well. I am not sure, how far Jesus is prepared to approve of such an image of him.

He had refused to be crowned as a king by those people who were so impressed by his miraculous works and wanted to catch him and make him king. Jesus slipped away from them, why? Because they had a wrong understanding of “king”. Yes he is King but not the way we ordinarily understand. Would Jesus be happy to be called as the King of the Jews, as the Piolet called him? That is less than half truth. Half-truth is often worse than no truth. He is in fact King of the Universe.

In today’s Gospel we see Jesus on the Cross. There we see his true kingship, and then we understand what sort of kingdom is his. Not as we would like to understand.

The Gospel passage that is read to us on this Solemnity of King of Kings is same as that of the Holy Week, when we remember his suffering and death. We meet Him at his most humble and most humiliated way. stripped. beaten. dying on the Cross. His head stooping down, face full of spittle and blood. That is the sort of King we hail as the King of Kings, Lord of Lords! No other kings we can be proud of, but Jesus the True King.

Those who do not know the truth would say “what a shame!” And we dearly call him our King, together with the dying thief on his right. He is not calling Jesus as “rabbi” or “teacher.” In the last moments of his life, someone finally calls Him, simply “Jesus.” It is the only moment in the gospels where this happens: this is the only time that someone calls him by his given name. The man hanging beside our Lord speaks to Him as a brother, as a friend. He talks to him, literally, man to man. But at the same time, he knows Jesus as the King with real authority. “Jesus,” he says to Him, “remember me when you come into your kingdom.”

So where is Jesus the king in times of our pain and sorrow? He is right in the heart of our pains. He is the king of our hearts. That means we are not to be kings over ourselves. If we call him our king, then we must allow him to rule over us. Those words, passed down through history, have become our words – the plea of anyone who has ever felt abandoned, or lonely, desperate or afraid. We pray that God doesn’t forget us. And that He gives us, somehow, His grace.

May the Peace of Christ reign in your hearts.
