33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time Year A

Readings: Proverbs 31:10-13, 19-20, 30-31; 1Thessalonians 5:1-6; Matthew 25:14-30

Holy Gospel

When the Son of man comes in his glory, escorted by all the angels, then he will take his seat on his throne of glory. All nations will be assembled before him and he will separate people one from another as the shepherd separates sheep from goats. He will place the sheep on his right hand and the goats on his left. Then the King will say to those on his right hand, "Come, you whom my Father has blessed, take as your heritage the kingdom prepared for you since the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you made me welcome, lacking clothes and you clothed me, sick and you visited me, in prison and you came to see me." Then the upright will say to him in reply, "Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? When did we see you a stranger and make you welcome, lacking clothes and clothe you? When did we find you sick or in prison and go to see you?" And the King will answer, "In truth I tell you, in so far as you did this to one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did it to me." Then he will say to those on his left hand, "Go away from me, with your curse upon you, to the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was hungry and you never gave me food, I was thirsty and you never gave me anything to drink, I was a stranger and you never made me welcome, lacking clothes and you never clothed me, sick and in prison and you never visited me." Then it will be their turn to ask, "Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty, a stranger or lacking clothes, sick or in prison, and did not come to your help?" Then he will answer, "In truth I tell you, in so far as you neglected to do this to one of the least of these, you neglected to do it to me." And they will go away to eternal punishment, and the upright to eternal life."

Matthew 25:31-46

YOUCAT

What is the Last Judgment?

The Last Judgment will take place at the end of the world, at the second coming of Christ. "All who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come forth, those who have done good, to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of judgment". When Christ comes again in glory, his full splendor will shine upon us. The truth will come plainly to light: our thoughts, our deeds, our relationship to God and to other men—nothing will remain hidden. We will recognize the ultimate meaning of creation, comprehend God's marvelous ways for the sake of our salvation, and finally receive also an answer to the question of why evil can be so powerful if God is in fact the Almighty. The Last Judgment is also our day in court. Here it is decided whether we will rise to eternal life or be separated from God forever. Toward those who have chosen life, God will act creatively once again. In a "new body" they will live forever in God's glory and praise him with body and soul.

Prayer for the Faithful Departed

Eternal rest grant unto them,
O Lord,
and let perpetual light shine upon them.
May they rest in peace.
Amen.

God's Influencer III

Carlo began documenting the numerous examples of Eucharistic miracles witnessed in different parts of the globe by people, from the early years of the Church until his own day. After meticulous research into each miracle, Carlo put together a collection of virtual panels with texts and photographs recounting the events documented in 20 different countries. He was convinced that this online museum of miracles, now translated into a dozen different languages, would attract young people back to the Church. His work caught the eye of Vatican officials in 2005, after Pope John Paul had called for a year dedicated to the Blessed Sacrament, and an exhibition of the panels was shown at a university in Rome. It was the first step on a journey that would see the exhibition traveling to churches and university campuses in countries around the world, including thousands of parishes and university chapels in the United States alone. His ever growing passion for sharing the Gospel led his parents to wonder whether he might be destined for ordination and a career in the Church.

Suddenly, in autumn 2006, Carlo's life took an unexpected and tragic turn when he was diagnosed with an acute and aggressive form of leukemia. A tall, strapping and apparently healthy teenager, he went down with flu symptoms at the beginning of October, like many others in his class. It didn't seem to be anything to worry about, until he woke up a few days later in pain and unable to move. His doctor advised that he be taken to a specialist children's hospital in Monza, where blood tests confirmed the diagnosis of M3 fulminant leukemia. Within a week his immune system collapsed, and on October 12 he suffered a brain hemorrhage with took his life away. Doctors who cared for him in those final days confirmed that he knew he had little chance of survival, yet he remained at peace, confiding in them: "I'm happy to die because I've lived my life without wasting even a minute of it doing things that wouldn't have pleased God".

General Intercessions

Our shepherd King reveals the mystery of his kingdom, in people who extend his loving care to the poor and the hungry. At the end of this Church Year, let us pray with the compassion of Christ our King.

1. For the Church, the working body of Christ, that we will welcome the lost, the stray, the weak, and the wounded.
2. For nations afflicted by poverty, that development may bring peace and justice.
3. For the most neglected and rejected people, that practical charity will draw them into the kingdom of mercy and love.
4. For the community in which we live, that we may spread the reign of Jesus Christ in acts of kindness and care.
5. For the sick and those who care for them: Bishop Peter Elliott
6. For the dead, that they may enter the kingdom prepared for them since the foundation of the world: Cath Tokely, Norbert Paprota

Father, knowing your boundless love for all people, we confidently bring our intentions before you, in the name of Christ, the universal King. Who lives and reigns for ever and ever.
