MAGNANIMITY: THE FORGOTTEN VIRTUE THAT TODAY'S WORLD NEEDS

In ancient times, there was admiration for people who believed that they were capable of doing great and noble things. Aristotle (+322 BC) described the magnanimous person as someone "worthy of great things". Humility is the courage to live in the truth of who we are who we are as beloved children of the Father; and magnanimity, the courage to expect and do great and noble things.

Magnanimity in the Christian understanding is the virtue of knowing who you are, doing those things that are an accord with your true nature, and contributing towards your becoming like God. Or in the words of St John Paul II (+ 2005), realizing that "we are not the sum of our weaknesses and failures; we are the sum of the Father's love for us and our real capacity to become the image of the Son." From this perspective the magnanimous person seeks to serve the Lord and become the image of the Son. They see sin as beneath them, too small to satisfy what they were truly made for. They see others not as problems to be solved but as persons to be encountered and accompanied towards their own greatness.

The question at the heart of magnanimity is "am I fulfilling my call to participate in God's mission for me in this world as I prepare for the world to come?"

St Teresa of Calcutta (+1997) understood well that the human virtues are developed primarily through habit. St Teresa knew that when we pray for the human virtues God in his wisdom does not infuse them in us, but rather gives us opportunities to develop them through practice, trial and in the case of St Teresa long suffering and hard work.

Just as a person can become a great pianist by playing the piano, we become prudent by making good decisions. Grace builds on nature, and virtue builds on human effort that is guided and strengthened by grace. Without human effort, the moral virtues cannot form. As St Augustine reminds us, "God created us without us, but He did not will to save us without us."

St Teresa was one of the 20th century's greatest leaders not because she never made mistakes, or because she was strong-willed, or because she was a good manager. She was a great leader because she knew who she was as a beloved daughter of God and she responded to the call of greatness by reminding others of their own dignity. She understood well what it meant to cultivate the virtue of humility, alongside the virtue of magnanimity. St Teresa did not present a technique or a program to the challenges she faces, rather she grew in virtue so she could serve with fidelity to her mission and call others to greatness.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

23-24 NOVEMBER CHRIST THE KING YEAR C

2 Samuel 5:1-3 Col 1:12-20 Luke 23:35-43

30 NOVEMBER-1 DECEMBER 1ST SUNDAY OF ADVENT YEAR A

Isaiah 2:1-5 Romans 13:11-14 Matthew 24:37-44

MEDITATION

When the world comes to an end, Christ comes—for all to see. The dramatic upheavals that are foretold in Sacred Scripture—the wickedness that will be plainly manifest, the trials and persecutions that will put the faith of many to the test—these are only the dark side of the new reality: God’s definitive victory over evil will be visible. God’s glory, truth, and justice will stand out brilliantly. With Christ’s coming there will be “a new heaven and a new earth”. “He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning nor crying nor pain any more, for the former things have passed away”.

CHRISTMAS DAY DINNER AT ST ANTHONY’S HALL

Wednesday 25th December 2019.

The Dinner begins after 11am Mass at approximately 12.30pm and is for anyone who may not be celebrating the great feast of Jesus’ Birth with family or friends. If you are from overseas, interstate, away from family, lacking the energy or where-with-all to organize a Christmas Dinner or looking for a safe place to celebrate, this is the place for you. Come along and enjoy a friendly traditional meal. Everyone is most welcome!

If you would like to be a guest please complete the yellow form attached and someone will contact you. Feel free to pass the sheet to others. If you would like to help with the Dinner, please fill out the green form, also attached. Help is always needed on the day and also beforehand.

All forms and donations of food or goods can be left in the boxes in the church porches or at the Parish House. Financial donations should be handed to Father Pritchard, Gwen or Veronica or placed in the letter box in the door of the Parish House. Definitely do not use the street letterbox. Please note we accept cash or funds via direct transfer but would rather not handle cheques.

Thank you all for supporting the Dinner. Your help brings it all together and it’s wonderful to see so many happy people enjoying the feast of Jesus’ Birth together.
