THE CELEBRATION OF MASS IN OUR PARISHES

The Chief Health Officer has strongly recommended the use of face coverings in indoor and crowd settings during this winter period (from July 2022 onwards).

Face coverings remain optional within Places of Worship. However, parishioners should be encouraged (via signage and bulletin reminders) to be sensitive to the well-being of others when in close proximity.

Clergy and Extraordinary Ministers are asked to wear face coverings for the distribution of communion.

Face coverings should also be worn when visiting parishioners.

Father, deepen our trust in you, so we may live joyfully and with courage.

PARTNERED PARISHES NEWS

The Partnered Parishes THINK AND BREATHE Child Safety – KEEP CHILDREN SAFE.

With the return of families at our Masses and as our toilets are out of view, parental supervision of your children is required while using the facilities.

Parents/guardians are to supervise children at all times when at our parishes.

Promoting respectful relationships.

- Engaging in positive and respectful interactions with children and young people that upholds their rights and dignity.
- Listening to and respecting the views of children and young people.

Saint Mary MacKillop- A life of constant prayer

St Mary MacKillop was born two blocks from St Patrick's Cathedral on Brunswick St in 1842, the first of eight children. The family was always poor, and Mary was, from a young age, involved in the support of the family. That being said, she had a relatively happy upbringing, living in a household of great love. Her Catholic faith, deeply fostered in the family, was crucial to her from the beginning.

From a young age, Mary was acutely moved by the lack of education, medical care and social services amongst the Catholic poor she saw around her. She dreamed of establishing a group of religious women who would be free to go wherever there was a need.

Education of poor children became her primary focus, and she opened her first school, in a stable, at Penola SA, in January 1866. She was only 24 years old. Mary made her religious vows in Adelaide in 1867, taking the name Mary of the Cross.

This was the beginnings of the Congregation of the Sisters of St Joseph of the Sacred Heart. By 1869, two years later, some 60 sisters had joined with her.

The Josephites were unlike other structures for religious women, going into places others would not. Herein lies the source of much of the difficulties that beset Mary for many years, especially with the hierarchy of the Church. It was in the crosses she bore that the heroic and saintly qualities of Mary really came through. She never failed to respect and pray for those who treated her harshly, and encouraged her sisters to do the same. And she never tired of her care for the poor. Tenacious and determined, yet kind and forgiving. These were the particular characteristics of Mary.

Saints are made in the lives they live; not by some natural gift or talent. Mary's life was centered on God. As she once wrote: 'I want with all my heart to be what God wants me to be'. It was faith which motivated her service. 'Faith', she said 'is the first essential if we are to cope' with life's difficulties.

Mary's emphasis on knowing and doing the will of God pervades all her writings. As she often wrote: 'The will of God is to me a very dear book, and I never tire of reading it.' But how did she know what God's will for her was? The answer is prayer. Mary came to know God's will for her through a life of constant prayer.

Interestingly, the content of her prayer was very simple. She would offer up her "Holy Communion", her "Rosaries", her "adorations", her "devotions" for the sake of others in a very simple piety. This is really interesting in our time when the old devotions of the Rosary and visits to the Blessed Sacrament are no longer the daily bread of people's prayer. (Though our young people and migrant families are taking a renewed path of popular piety.) We have a saint who found a devotional way of praying the path to sanctity.

This simplicity led Mary to a profound understanding of the mind and heart of God, what she so marvellously called "her dear book". It was in reading the book of God's loving will for her, that Mary learnt to live a life of forgiveness and remarkable kindness. As she would say: 'Believe in the whisperings of God in your heart. Believe in him. Believe in the power of the Spirit of love.' (1868)

St Mary of the Cross MacKillop, pray for us.

Dear parishioners,

It is with mixed feelings that I announce that I am retiring from my Pastoral Associate role at the end of September (or the first week in October.) I have been here at St Marys' for over 17 years now and 32 years in total in Pastoral Associate Ministry in Melbourne.

I am older and tired and a recent spell of illness sharpened my appreciation of the need to slow down.

The parish will advertise for a new Pastoral Associate and I am sure you will welcome and support that person, as you have for me.

Thank you for everything you have given me over my time here and I look forward to seeing you over the next couple of months.

Jacinta

JACINTA BRIGHT'S FARWELL

Following Jacinta Bright's sad news last week that she is retiring in October as our Pastoral Associate, it is appropriate that we farewell her with her family present so as to express our gratitude and well-wishes to her.

All parishioners from our Partnered Parishes are warmly welcome to farewell Jacinta at the 10.00 am Mass at St. Mary's on Sunday October 2nd.

This will be followed by refreshments in the Gathering Space of the church. If you are coming, you might consider bringing a plate to share.

Fr Steven Rigo.

OPPORTUNITY FOR OUTREACH

Neal Murphy, the Director for Mission Integration of St. John of God, Accord has invited our parishes to develop relationships with clients of what used to be 'Churinga' in Nth. Greensborough.

This would entail both our welcoming of them to our parish of St. Thomas' and of our parishioners engaging with them at their facilities.

I have been invited to ask interested parishioners to go to a presentation by Accords CEO Lisa Evans and Directors from each of the service areas who will speak about their roles in the organisation, and for Neal to host a conversation about how Accord holds itself as a ministry of church in the work in which they are involved.

We would also be taken on a short tour of the facility and Accord will provide lunch. I would welcome some parishioners to accompany me to establish this relationship. Please contact me directly by email or phone.

Fr. Steven Rigo.

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT ST THOMAS

Contactless Payments: We are now able to allow electronic transfer of funds through the purchase of a Square Tap Machine. Parishioners will be able to 'tap and go' for the Presbytery and Parish collections. There are instruction in the Church or you can ask for help.

 Square

This will enable those who want to have less reliance on cash to be able to keep supporting the Parish and our Priests.

Finance/Thanksgiving Program : Completed pledge forms for our mini Thanksgiving Campaign can be placed in the box in the Church foyer or they can be returned directly to the Parish Office. While internet banking (direct transfer from your bank account to the Church account) is our preferred method of payment, other payment options include credit card, cash or cheque via Thanksgiving envelope or electronically via Square Tap Machine at weekend Masses.

Copies of the handout on Parish finances are also available in the foyer. Your ongoing support is much appreciated.

Next meeting of the St Thomas parish Pastoral Council will be on Wednesday 17th August, 7.00pm

St Thomas Parish Pastoral Council: Email address: stthomasppc@gmail.com

Set up/Pack up at Mass:

Just a few things to remember now that we are able to have an Offertory Procession.

- Could you please place the bread and wine at the back of the Church instead of on the altar.
- The cleaning of the Altar is to be done at the end of Mass, not during the last hymn.
- Please remember the person rostered on is the one responsible for set up and packing up.
- If you wish to go on the setup roster please contact Lisa in the office.

ST THOMAS TABERNACLE

Fr Steven extends an invitation to parishioners who are interested in forming a committee to further consider a proposal to place the St Thomas tabernacle closer to the sanctuary. This would involve constructing a wall to enclose its present location in order to create a separate Blessed Sacrament chapel where another tabernacle would be available for those who visit after hours to pray.

If you are interested please contact Sandra Bishop sandraebishop@optusnet.com.au Fr Steven Rigo steven.rigo@cam.org.au before Tuesday 9th August.

A meeting will be held in the parish house meeting room on Wednesday 10th August, 7.00pm. All welcome.

LECTIONARY ART REFLECTION BY JENNY CLOSE.

Jesus' message indicates that the disciples should live as if every day was their last: keep the lamps burning and be ready to answer the door when the Son of Man knocks. There was a sense of urgency in the early church regarding the Second Coming.

Nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year C

7 August 2022

First Reading Wis 18:6-9

Just as you struck our enemies, you made us glorious by calling us to you.

That night had been foretold to our ancestors, so that, once they saw what kind of oaths they had put their trust in, they would joyfully take courage.

This was the expectation of your people, the saving of the virtuous and the ruin of their enemies;

for by the same act with which you took vengeance on our foes

you made us glorious by calling us to you. The devout children of worthy men offered sacrifice in secret and this divine pact they struck with one accord: that the saints would share the same blessings and dangers alike; and forthwith they had begun to chant the hymns of the fathers.

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 32:1. 12. 18-20. 22. R. v.12

(R.) Happy the people the Lord has chosen to be his own.

1. Ring out your joy to the Lord, O you just; for praise is fitting for loyal hearts. They are happy, whose God is the Lord, the people he has chosen as his own. (R.)
2. The Lord looks on those who revere him, on those who hope in his love, to rescue their souls from death, to keep them alive in famine. (R.)
3. Our soul is waiting for the Lord. The Lord is our help and our shield. May your love be upon us, O Lord, as we place all our hope in you. (R.)

Second Reading Heb 11:1-2, 8-19 (or shorter form Heb 11:1-2, 8-12)

We will look for the city designed and built by God.

Only faith can guarantee the blessings that we hope for, or prove the existence of the realities that at present remain unseen. It was for faith that our ancestors were commended.

It was by faith that Abraham obeyed the call to set out for a country that was the inheritance given to him and his descendants, and that he set out without knowing where he was going. By faith he arrived, as a foreigner, in the Promised Land, and lived there as if in a strange country, with Isaac and Jacob, who were heirs with him of the same promise. They lived there in tents while he looked forward to a city founded, designed and built by God.

It was equally by faith that Sarah, in spite of being past the age, was made able to conceive, because she believed that he who had made the promise would be faithful to it. Because of this, there came from one man, and one who was already as good as dead himself, more descendants than could be counted, as many as the stars of heaven or the grains of sand on the seashore.

All these died in faith, before receiving any of the things that had been promised, but they saw them in the far distance and welcomed them, recognising that they were only strangers and nomads on earth.

People who use such terms about themselves make it quite plain that they are in search of their real homeland. They can hardly have meant the country they came from, since they had the opportunity to go back to it; but in fact they were longing for a better homeland, their heavenly homeland. That is why God is not ashamed to be called their God, since he has founded the city for them.

It was by faith that Abraham, when put to the test, offered up Isaac. He offered to sacrifice his only son even though the promises had been made to him and he had been told: It is through Isaac that your name will be carried on. He was confident that God had the power even to raise the dead, and so, figuratively speaking, he was given back Isaac from the dead.

Gospel Acclamation Mt 24:42. 44

Alleluia, alleluia!

Be watchful and ready:

You know not when the Son of Man is coming.

Alleluia!

Gospel Lk 12:32-48

(or shorter form Lk 12:35-40)

See that you are prepared.

Jesus said to his disciples: 'There is no need to be afraid, little flock, for it has pleased your Father to give you the kingdom.

'Sell your possessions and give alms. Get yourselves purses that do not wear out, treasure that will not fail you, in heaven where no thief can reach it and no moth destroy it. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

'See that you are dressed for action and have your lamps lit. Be like men waiting for their master to return from the wedding feast, ready to open the door as soon as he comes and knocks. Happy those servants whom the master finds awake when he comes. I tell you solemnly, he will put on an apron, sit them down at table and wait on them. It may be in the second watch he comes, or in the third, but happy those servants if he finds them ready. You may be quite sure of this, that if the householder had known at what hour the burglar would come, he would not have let anyone break through the wall of his house. You too must stand ready, because the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.'

Peter said, 'Lord, do you mean this parable for us, or for everyone?' The Lord replied, 'What sort of steward, then, is faithful and wise enough for the master to place him over his household to give them their allowance of food at the proper time? Happy that servant if his master's arrival finds him at this employment. I tell you truly, he will place him over everything he owns. But as for the servant who says to himself, "My master is taking his time coming", and sets about beating the menservants and the maids, and eating and drinking and getting drunk, his master will come on a day he does not expect and at an hour he does not know. The master will cut him off and send him to the same fate as the unfaithful.

'The servant who knows what his master wants, but has not even started to carry out those wishes, will receive very many strokes of the lash. The one who did not know, but deserves to be beaten for what he has done, will receive fewer strokes. When a man has had a great deal given him, a great deal will be demanded of him; when a man has had a great deal given him on trust, even more will be expected of him.'

Reflection by Fr Michael Tate

Jesus lived in a remote part of the Roman Empire where the majority eked out an existence. One of the few ways in which redistribution of wealth could occur was by voluntarily giving to the poor. So Jesus instructs his followers: 'Sell your possessions and give generously to those in need.'

We live in a very different society: 'The Commonwealth of Australia.' 'Commonwealth' indicates that the wealth of this nation, its people and resources, are meant to be directed to the common good.

So, we respond to Our Lord's command in ways very different to what was possible in his day.

We have a compulsory taxation system which forces us to give up some of our possessions, some of our wealth to the common-wealth. Taxation and social justice policies help fulfil Our Lord's command to create a society more humane than anything remotely possible under the Roman Empire. And that would please Our Lord. Why?

In part because those in need are helped. But, perhaps in greater part, because it makes us larger hearted people. We have to arrive at the moment of death with a heart so capacious that it can include the billions of people we hope inhabit heavenly existence.

We might pause for a moment to pray for our hearts to be expanded by our contribution to the common-wealth of all peoples throughout the world.
